

I'm Going Home... And so are You!

It's time to go to work today,
Since I need money to go and play.
We start off the shift with a quick safety talk,
Then on to the work area for the pre-op walk.

As we gather all the tools we need,
The procedure we review and read.
Well now it's time to start this task,
That my partner and I will finish fast.

Wait... let's look cause something's not right,
We better review cause we're going home tonight.
A simple assessment should do the trick,
One here in the field thorough and quick.

"Oh!" I say, "Don't you see?"
"We're doing it wrong! Stop!" I plea.
A step changed here and another one there,
And a different tool here is better I swear.

Now it's corrected, you've shown that you care,
And your partner knows you'll always be there.
The job is done, homeward you're bound,
And happy that everyone is still around.

I'm Glad you saw my point of view,
Cause I'm going home and so are you!

This is from Sandra T. and Danney